From The Executive Director

At the Walters Art Museum, fiscal year 2020 was one of extraordinary accomplishments and growth. Through the strong guidance of our Board of Trustees and the dedicated work of our staff and volunteers, our world-renowned collection of art and history served as the launch pad for community events, collaborations with local artists, and exciting exhibitions that brought thousands of visitors to the museum from around the country.

Our exhibition Designing the New: Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Glasgow Style, a collaboration between the Walters, the Glasgow Museums, and the American Federation of Arts, was the first of its kind in the United States to highlight the architect and designer's innovative work, along with the circle of artists and craftspeople with whom he collaborated. The St. Francis Missal became the first dedicated exhibition in over 40 years of the legendary Medieval manuscript, marking the culmination of a multi-year, once-in-a-lifetime conservation project to restore this beloved work and believed relic of touch of St. Francis of Assis. We continued our commitment to the Baltimore arts community in our exhibition Time and Place, which showcased local artists Jay Gould and Antonio McAfee in an installation at Hackerman House at 1 West Mount Vernon Place. The exhibition placed these artists' photography in conversation with works from the Walters to examine issues of class and labor.

The museum made exceptional acquisitions, including the book Historia de Gentibus Septentrionalibus and the oil painting Young Men Smoking in an Inn, adding to our world-class collections of rare books and 15th-century art.

When the COVID-19 Pandemic forced the museum to shut its doors in March 2020, we met the unique challenges presented to us by shifting to a virtual format and expanding our digital resources to include weekly virtual art-making and digital versions of popular programs such as artist and curator talks. And our school programs continued to provide meaningful connections with art to thousands of children, innovating new ways for students to engage with the collections from home.

We anticipate continuing many of the initiatives we began into our next fiscal year and remain steadfast in our commitment to furthering the mission of the Walters—to bring art and people together for learning and enjoyment.

Exhibitions & Installations

Time and Place

July 31, 2019–March 01, 2020

An installation of contemporary art at 1 West Mount Vernon Place, also known as Hackerman House, used portraiture to engage with the history and functions of the house.

Artists Antonio McAfee and Jay Gould utilized photography to examine issues of class and labor, collapsing the distance between past and present. McAfee used photographs from W.E.B. DuBois's "Exhibit of American Negroes" (1900), as well as other images of Black life, to create composite, ethereal figures, while Gould's portraits of contemporary Baltimoreans evoked historic 19th-century photography. Additional works from the Walters' collections were also displayed in the house.

Time and Place was organized by the Walters Art Museum. Support for this exhibition was generously provided by Neil and Sayra Meyerhoff.

Designing the New: Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Glasgow Style

October 06, 2019–January 05, 2020

Designing the New: Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Glasgow Style was the first US exhibition in a generation to highlight the architect and designer's innovative work, and explore the larger circle of artists and craftspeople with whom he collaborated.

Featuring a variety of media including furniture, posters, textiles, architectural drawings, books, and ceramics, Designing the New: Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Glasgow Style celebrated the 150th anniversary of Mackintosh's birth. The exhibition highlighted the process of making, the international influences and impact of the Glasgow Style, and the Glasgow School of Art's support and encouragement of women artists. Approximately 165 works, drawn from the best of Glasgow Museums' internationally renowned civic collections, alongside key pieces from the Hunterian, University of Glasgow, the Glasgow School of Art, and important loans from private collections were on display.

Spanning Mackintosh's lifetime (1868–1928), the exhibition presented his work in the context of his key predecessors, contemporaries, and the international influences from which they drew inspiration, including Japanese tsubas, Islamic tiles, and extraordinary bookbindings. Visitors explored some of these inspirations in the Walters collection. The exhibition also established a link between Glasgow and Baltimore as industrial cities that produced rich artistic traditions and cultures as they grew.

Designing the New: Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Glasgow Style was a touring exhibition co-organized by Glasgow Museums and the American Federation of Arts. The exhibition comprised works from the collections of Glasgow City Council (Museums and Collections), with loans from Scottish collections and private lenders. Support for the U.S. national tour is provided by the Dr. Lee MacCormick Edwards Charitable Foundation.

The Walters Art Museum's presentation was made possible by generous support from the Women's Committee of the Walters Art Museum and The St. Andrew's Society of Baltimore.

From Mucha To Morris: Books of the Art Nouveau October 02, 2019–April 19, 2020

In complement to Designing the New, the display on the fourth floor of the Centre St. building presented From Mucha to Morris: Books of the Art Nouveau, a selection of 12 Art Nouveau books by William Morris, Alphonse Mucha, and others. These stunning books exemplified the romance and whimsy of the era, with pages inhabited by undulated vines, gardens of abstract flowers, and elegant maidens in billowing gowns. In the 1890s, the height of the Art Nouveau movement, Henry Walters began building his book collection in earnest. While he is best known today for collecting medieval manuscripts, Henry Walters had a taste for equally magnificent printed books and frequently sought out collectible editions with extra illustrations and exceptional touches by the artists who designed them. Among those collectible editions was a unique edition of Ilsée, Princesse de Tripoli, featuring original watercolor illustrations from Mucha, and a one-of-a-kind binding commissioned by Henry Walters. A first edition of William Morris' Kelmscott Chaucer, as well as works by renowned illustrators Aubrey Beardsley and Walter Crane, was also displayed in the rotation. In the years since his death, the Walters collection of Art Nouveau books has continued to grow, most notably through a generous gift from local collector and philanthropist Hugo Dalsheimer, several of whose books were on display.

From Mucha to Morris drew from the Walters own collection of rare books and manuscripts, which spans more than 1,000 years and contains over 900 manuscripts, 1,300 of the earliest printed books, and 2,000 rare later editions from across the globe.

This exhibition was generously supported by Walters Art Museum members and contributors to the annual fund.

Excursions through the Collection: Portraiture, Adornment, and the Natural World

November 17, 2019–Ongoing

Excursions through the Collection: Portraiture, Adornment, and the Natural World brings together 35 masterpieces from across the Walters' collections that express interest in three themes: portraiture, adornment, and the natural world.

Dating from the second century BCE to the early 20th century and representing cultures throughout the world, the works includes a wide range of materials, from sandstone and gemstones to ivory and parchment.

These themes and more are featured in a new guide to art at the Walters—also named Excursions through the Collection—that was published in Spring 2020. The first of its kind in over 20 years, the guide highlights over 150 of the museum's star objects.

The St. Francis Missal February 01, 2020–January 31, 2021

The St. Francis Missal—a legendary 12th-century manuscript and relic of touch of St. Francis of Assisi—had its first dedicated exhibition at the Walters Art Museum in 40 years.

The St. Francis Missal was an intimate exhibition featuring approximately 17 objects, including manuscripts, paintings, ivories, ceramics, and documentation of the Missal's recent two-year conservation funded by the Mellon Foundation.

In 1208, St. Francis of Assisi and two followers were debating what God's plan for them might be. Unable to agree, they sought answers at the church of San Nicolò in Assisi, where Francis often attended. They opened the Missal, which sat on the altar, three times at random and in every case, the text on the page urged renouncing earthly goods. This pivotal moment laid the foundation for the Franciscan order. Due to this possible contact with the saint, the book now known as the St. Francis Missal is considered by Franciscans worldwide to be a relic of touch, and many make pilgrimages to Baltimore to see it.

Decades of use took a toll on the book's fragile binding, and in 2017, the Walters conservation staff began a two-year restoration project. The Missal has since been repaired and stabilized, and has been digitized for the Walters' manuscript website, Ex Libris.

The exhibition drew upon the Walters' world-renowned rare books and manuscripts collection, which spans more than 1000 years and contains over 900 manuscripts, 1300 of the earliest printed books, and 2000 rare later editions from across the globe.

The St. Francis Missal was generously supported by Mary and Scott Wieler / The Wieler Family Foundation, Mary Catherine Bunting, Ellen and Ed Bernard, The Marion I. & Henry J. Knott Foundation, the Archdiocese of Baltimore, Lewis Contractors, Ted and Mary Jo Wiese, Joanne and Mark A. Fitz-Patrick, and Robert and Mimie Helm Family Charitable Trust. Conservation funded by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.
